A Short Introduction to Mushroom Foraging in Pennsylvania

WITH ALETHEA KIDD FROM FUNGIFIED FARM

Tuesday, March 4

10:00 to 11:00 a.m.

Summit View Auditorium at Souderton Mennonite Homes

Love mushrooms? Interested in learning about fungi? Learn about native mushroom species from a passionate local mushroom forager!

This course will explore how to recognize common and not-so-common mushrooms in Pennsylvania. We will discuss safe foraging techniques and the importance of a healthy fungal ecosystem.

As a small family-run farm in Montgomery County, Fungified Farm produces an array of delicious gourmet mushrooms without using any chemicals or pesticides. They are passionate about foraging local wild mushrooms.

S2502

Native American Jewelry of the American Southwest

WITH JAMES RICHARD TUFANO

Wednesday, March 5

10:00 to 11:30 a.m.

Fisher Auditorium at Dock Woods

Handcrafted jewelry made by Zuni, Hopi, and Navajo silversmiths in northern Arizona and New Mexico has evolved from traditional hammered and stamped coin silver created by the Navajo to the contemporary use of multicolored turquoise, coral, onyx, mother of pearl, and other stones and shells on sterling silver. Each culture has distinctive styles of silversmithing, and examples of each will be on display in this class. Participants are invited to bring their Indian jewelry to class for Jim’s version of Antiques Roadshow.

James Richard Tufano has made a lifelong study of Native American history and cultures, traveling extensively to visit many reservations, museums, and other places of significance. Jim is a resident of Dock Woods.

S2503

Stories Behind Peace Valley

WITH KATHRYN MCKENNA

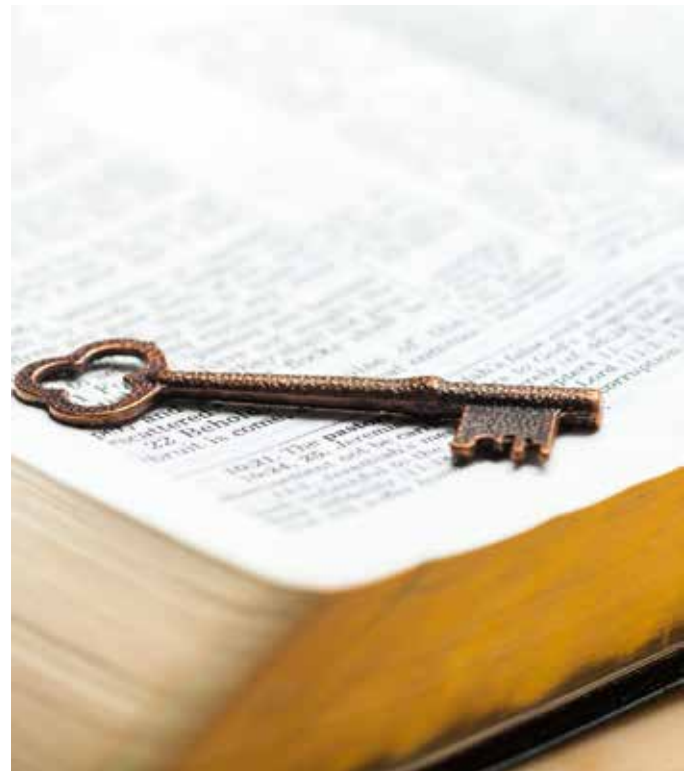

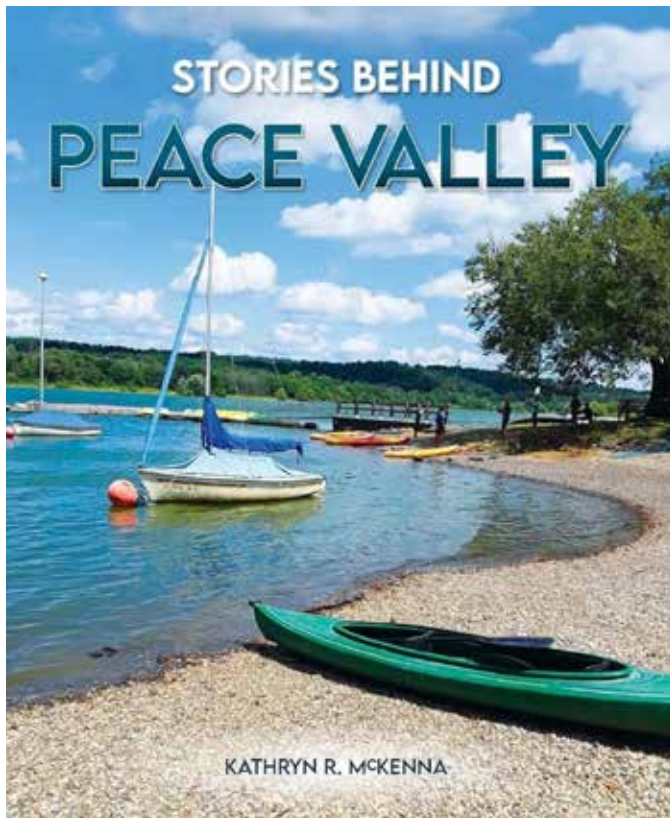

Thursday, March 6

10:00 to 11:00 a.m.

Fisher Auditorium at Dock Woods

Lake Galena and the village of New Galena were named after the discovery of the mineral in the valley that forever changed the lives and livelihoods of the residents and businesses there. Kathryn's book, Stories Behind Peace Valley, offers a glimpse into the history, businesses, mining operations, lake project, and the lives and activities of those who lived and worked there before the manmade lake was created.

Kathryn R. McKenna is retired from her career as a teacher and educational consultant and has earned a certificate in historic preservation from Bucks County Community College. Three other books by Kathryn featuring local landmarks are The Mercer Museum A to Z; Treasured Legacy Stories of the James-Lorah Memorial Home; and Man About Town – W. Lester Trauch.

S2504

Insights from Ancient Christian Questions

WITH NANCY HEISEY, Ph.D.

Tuesday, March 11 (Part 1) and

Wednesday, March 12 (Part 2)

10:00 to 11:30 a.m.

Summit View Auditorium at

Souderton Mennonite Homes

This course is limited to 50 students.

Contemporary participants in the Christian story don't usually think about how our ancient forebears dealt with two vexing issues of their time. Our first theme is how Christians dealt with the threat of and temptation to violence. Our second theme is "women and men," or how Christians navigated cultural norms and societal customs that affected the participation of women and men in the churches.

Nancy Heisey, Ph.D., recently retired from 24 years of teaching at Eastern Mennonite University. Drawing on her research into the history of the first Christians in Egypt, she taught courses in church history for over a decade.

S2505

Come With Us on a Road Trip to Yellowstone

WITH PHYLLIS YOUNG

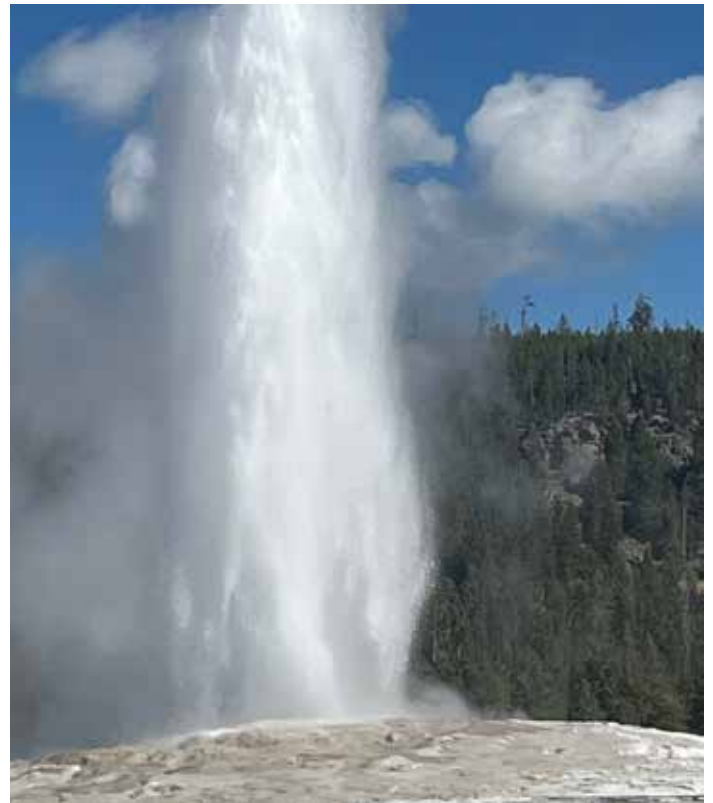

Thursday, March 13

10:00 to 11:30 a.m.

Fisher Auditorium at Dock Woods

This presentation of photos taken while driving to Yellowstone will discuss how we prepared for the trip and offer tips on making the most of any road trip, as well as interesting and fun locations you won't want to miss.

Phyllis Young retired in 2022 after 32 years at Grand View Hospital in women's health and as a registered nurse and lactation consultant. Since retiring she has enjoyed outdoor activities, volunteering, and travel.

The Mennonite Communal Background of Living Branches

WITH JOHN L. RUTH, Ph.D.

Monday, March 17

10:00 to 11:30 a.m.

Derstine Chapel at Dock Woods

The character of Living Branches is the fruit of a quarter millennium of Mennonite community in the Delaware Valley. This course will explore why and how this community assembled from half a dozen European sources spread over present-day Montgomery, Bucks, Chester, and Northampton counties. Learn about the creation of a range of institutions beyond home and church life from which Living Branches began and the Dock community was gathered in the 1980s. Attention will be given to the values and parochial limits of the local Mennonite tradition.

John Landis Ruth, Ph.D. was ordained a minister in the Franconia Mennonite Conference at the age of 20. He graduated from Eastern Baptist College and Harvard University. After 14 years of teaching English at Eastern University, he accepted an invitation from the Franconia Mennonite Conference to take up historical work. Among his books are Conrad Grebel, Son of Zurich; 'Twas Seeding Time': A Mennonite View of the American Revolution; The History of the Indian Valley and its Bank; Maintaining the Right Fellowship; A Quiet and Peaceable Life; The Earth is the Lord's: A Narrative History of the Lancaster Mennonite Conference; Forgiveness: A Legacy of the West Nickel Mines Amish School; Branch: A Memoir With Pictures; and This Very Ground, This Crooked Affair: A Mennonite Homestead on Lenape Land.

S2507

Lost to the Reservoir

WITH THOMAS S. HENRY

Tuesday, March 18

10:00 to 11:30 a.m.

Summit View Auditorium at
Souderton Mennonite Homes

Learn all about the farms and structures that were razed for the Green Lane Reservoir project.

Thomas S. Henry is a native of the Upper Perkiomen Valley and a U.S. Air Force veteran retired after 41 years in the printing industry. He serves as a board member of Life Long Learning in the Upper Perkiomen School District and a member of the Upper Hanover Township Historical Committee.

S2508

A Critical History of American Journalism

WITH MARK KELLEY, Ph.D.

Tuesdays, March 25 (Part 1), April 1 (Part 2),
and April 8 (Part 3)

10:00 a.m. to noon

Fisher Auditorium at Dock Woods

This course is limited to 75 students.

This course encourages students to engage in critical thinking as they consider the inventions, events, and people that have shaped American journalism from colonial times to the internet. We'll consider the impact of technical, economic, political, and cultural developments as we examine what "freedom of the press" and "the truth" have meant in American society from the Age of Jefferson to the Age of Trump.

Recommended books for this course:

- Engaging News Media (2006) by Mark Kelley
- Mightier than the Sword: How the News Media Have Shaped American History, 4th Edition (2015) by Rodger Streitmatter

Mark Kelley, Ph.D. taught journalism/mass communications at Syracuse University and the University of Maine after 25 years as a broadcast journalist. His career included producing weekend news at WSTM-TV in Syracuse, investigative reporting at WSJV-TV in Elkhart, IN, and WNDU-TV in South Bend, IN. When he retired from reporting in 1999, he was the main anchor for WNDU-TV created by Father Ted Hesburgh, former president of the University of Notre Dame. He is the author of five books, including Engaging News Media: A Practical Guide for People of Faith, This Mere Existence: Motivation and Strategies for Restoring Human Rights, and An Uncommon Woman: The Life of Lydia Hamilton Smith. Kelley lives in Lancaster with his wife, Marty.

S2509

Presidents in Retirement

WITH DAVID HUDIAK

Thursdays, March 27 (Part 1), April 3 (Part 2),
and April 10 (Part 3)

10:00 to 11:30 a.m.

Summit View Auditorium at
Souderton Mennonite Homes

This course is part of a collaboration with Widener University's Osher Lifelong Learning Institute and there is an extra cost of $25.00.

This course will cover what each of our presidents did after leaving office. Some led useful lives, some did very little, but all of their stories are interesting. Additionally, students will learn how each of our former presidents died and in doing so will learn about the evolution of American medicine from our early days to the present.

David Hudiak has had the pleasure of teaching at Living Branches for the past several years as a faculty member of the Osher Lifelong Learning Program of Widener University. He is a retired member of the Pennsylvania and New Jersey bars and holds a bachelor's degree in political science from Haverford College and a juris doctorate from the Law School of the University of Pennsylvania.

S2510

Stents

WITH MARVIN WOODALL

Wednesday, April 23

10:00 to 11:00 a.m.

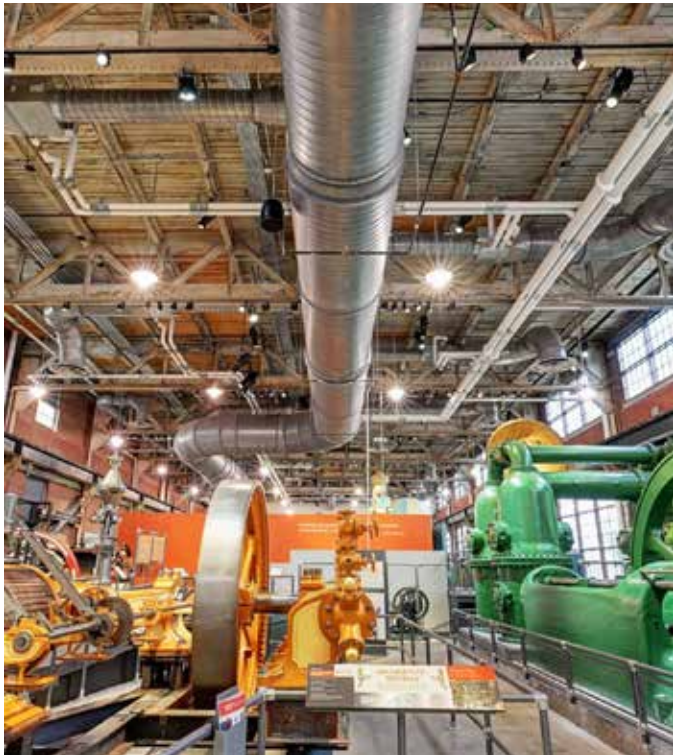

Fisher Auditorium at Dock Woods

This course is limited to 70 students.

This presentation will explore the original discovery of a medical device to hold an artery open for blood flow: a stent. Learn the path the stent took from an idea to one of the most important medical devices in the past 30 years.

Marvin Woodall has over 50 years of experience in creating medical devices for heart disease. Most of his career was with Johnson and Johnson, and toward the end he was the president of Johnson and Johnson Interventional Systems, which was responsible for developing the first balloon expandable stent. This led to the development of numerous analogues including stent grafts for aortic aneurysms and TAVR, a minimally invasive way to repair a faulty aortic valve.

S2511
Field Trip to the National Museum of Industrial History Followed by Ice Cream at The Cup at Lehigh

Thursday, April 24

The Musical Zoo

WITH JAMES SMITH

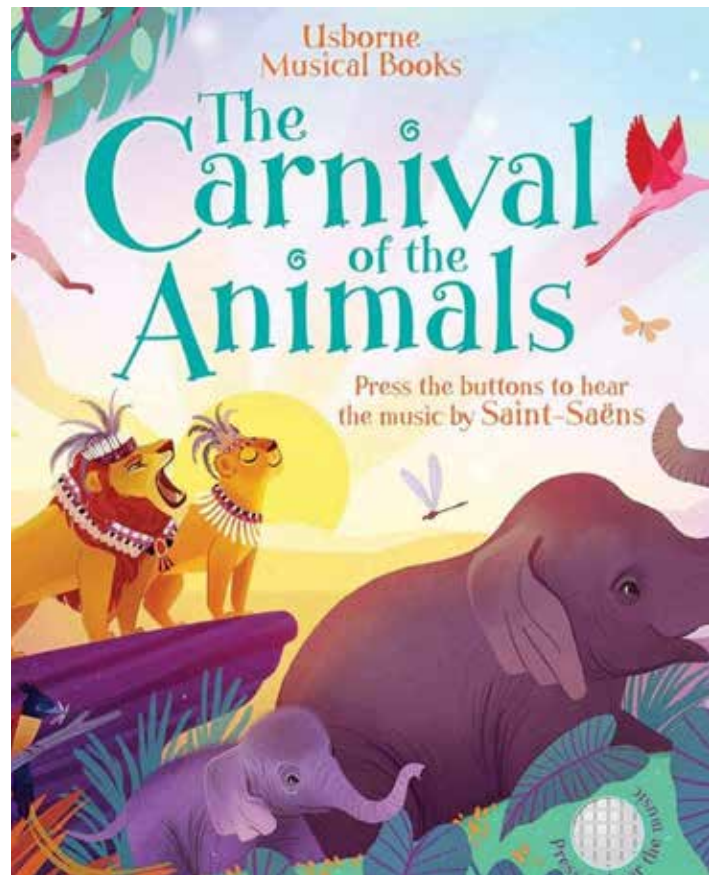

Tuesdays, May 6 (Part 1) and 13 (Part 2)

10:00 to 11:30 a.m.

Derstine Chapel at Dock Woods

Over the years composers have created musical compositions that feature animals. We will listen to music about or including animals of various species. The featured work in this course will be the famous “Carnival of the Animals” by French composer Camille Saint-Saëns that includes humorous verses written by Ogden Nash.

James Smith earned a degree in music education from Mansfield University. A retired elementary vocal music teacher, he is the organist at Sanctuary United Methodist Church in North Wales. James and his wife, Sue, live at Dock Woods.

S2514

License Plate History of the U.S.

WITH JOHN ANSHANT

Wednesday, May 7

10:00 to 11:30 a.m.

Fisher Auditorium at Dock Woods

This course is limited to 30 students.

Using real displays and artifacts, this course reveals the history of U.S. license and registration plates from the earliest issues to the present.

John Anshant became serious about collecting license plates at age 12. In his career he has worked as a mechanical technician in development of fighter jet instrumentation, an auctioneer, and a small business owner. He continues to run businesses that supply license plates to enthusiasts and collectors.
